Nebraska Tosses Cowboys, 27 to 14; Best Since 1903!

By Wally Provost
Sports Editor of The World-Herald

Memorial Stadium, Lincoln—Nebraska mixed brilliant and ragged football Saturday while overcoming the bitter resistance of Oklahoma State, 27 to 14, and pulling to within one victory of a perfect season.

A record crowd of 49,500, including representatives of the Orange, Sugar and Cotton Bowls, watched the Huskers raise their season record to 9-0, the gaudiest string since the 1903 team won 11 in a row.

A Nebraska spokesman said no bowl offers have been made, "but talks are continuing with representatives of the Sugar and Cotton Bowls."

The Huskers need a victory at Oklahoma U. this week to wrap up their second consecutive Big Eight championship. With the once-beaten Sooners being held to a tie by Missouri Saturday, the only surviving title challenger is Kansas.

Should Oklahoma upset N.U. and Kansas turn back Missouri, the Huskers and Jayhawks would share the crown with 6-1 records.

Long Plays Score

The clinching points against Oklahoma State were not registered until Mike Kennedy intercepted a pass and Kent McCloughan galloped four yards around end with five seconds remaining.

Kennedy later saluted the pesky Cowpokes as "the toughest team this year and last year."

Nebraska had opened the scoring in the first quarter with a 92-yard march, perhaps its most impressive drive of the year. That counter also was supplied by McCloughan, who hiked his touchdown total to 12 and point collection to 74 as several hundred rooters from Broken Bow celebrated his "day."

The other Scarlet touchdowns came on an 80-yard kick-off return by heroic Frank Solich and an all-rookie, 34-yard pass play, with Quarterback Bob Churchich throwing to Halfback Harry Wilson.

Solich Earns Praise

Solich, who also pranced for 69 yards rushing, was voted the winners' outstanding back. He had excellent company, with Bob Hohn hammering for 85 yards, McCloughan adding 52 and young Churchich delivering six of eight passes for 86 yards.

Balloting for the top line performance was split between Larry Kramer, who saw action both on offense and defense this record-hot, 70-degree afternoon, and pass-catching End Tony Jeter.

Oklahoma State took advantage of some of the Huskers' erratic play to drive in for both of its touchdowns.

The opening thrust apparently was stalled when a fourth-down punt was forced in the starting sequence. However, Nebraska was caught on illegal use of the hands—so the Cowpokes kept possession and carried out a march of 67 yards.

Garrison Is Pesky

The losers' other score followed Leon Ward's pass interception and a ground-pounding exercise of 56 yards.

Oklahoma State totaled 154 yards rushing, a season high against the N.U. Black Shirts. The previous topper was Minnesota's 150.

A huge share of the OSU load was toted by Fullback Walt Garrison, who hacked out 112 paces on 26 attempts.

Nebraska's long trip in the first period was a marvel of precision blocking, power running—and a couple of Churchich passes to Jeter and McCloughan.

Only once did a fourth-down predicament arise.

That came on the Oklahoma State 24 and Nebraska needing five yards. As Wilson, Jeter and Center Lyle Sittler helped open the door, Solich sped through the middle to the 16.

Three plays later, Hohn shot through the right side for six and a first down on the five. As usual, Cowpokes such as Charley Harper, Ward, Jack Jacobson and Ron Alexander were playing mighty tough.

Omaha University put together two good quarters of offensive football in its season finale Saturday while whipping Fort Hays, 33 to 15, and vaulting into a three-way tie for second place in the Central Intercollegiate Conference.

Dropped into the cellar after losing their first two league games, the Indians won their last two and finished a "rebuilding" year with a 5-4 record.

An appreciative turnout of 22 hundred saw the Omahans score their most points of the campaign.

Thirteen-point attacks in the second quarter, with a gusting wind up to 30 miles an hour, and in the fourth, against the breeze, provided the big margin.

Fort Hays scored the first and last touchdowns, but Omaha dominated even more than indicated by the score.

A fumble led to the first Tiger touchdown, a penalty made a third quarter safety possible and Indian indifference set up a 43-yard Fort Hays touchdown pass on the final play.

Freshman Doug Butler, who led rushing with 98 yards on 17 carries, fumbled at the Omaha 10 early in the second quarter and Roger Clark recovered.

The Tigers needed three plays to score, with Steve Worley bucking the final three yards.

A Ron Morel pass interception at the Tiger 10 delayed Omaha before the hosts drove to their first of two quick touchdowns and a 13-to-7 advantage at the half.

Omaha needed nine plays to cover 52 yards for the tying counter, with rookie Don Moray, who aggravated an old ankle injury and was carried off the field two plays later—was the big gainer before Larry Trofholz punched over from the two with 6:44 to play showing on the clock.

Terry Edwards made his first of three placements and the Omahans had a short-lived tie.

Jack Johnson fumbled the ensuing kick-off and Jim Norris recovered for Omaha on the Fort Hays 25.

Butler bucked for two yards, then fell in behind Quarterback Marlin Briscoe and Trofholz on a sweep. Each man delivered a true block and Doug more than atoned for his fumble by caroming off the last defender and into the end zone with 2:22 remaining.

Edwards recovered a Bob Johnson fumble two plays later on the nine-yard line. After Don Crum lost to the 15, Omaha forged a fourth-and-four play situation on the four-yard line.

Jimmy Jones dropped a touchdown pass in the end zone and Omaha had to be satisfied with a one-touchdown advantage at the rest period.

Omaha provided practically all the offense but could score only once with the favoring wind in the third period. Don Crum was the central figure despite the fact Terry Williams made his only touchdown of the season on a 22-yard sweep with 4:31 to play.

Don Crum first gained the spotlight on a 63-yard run from Omaha's 13. Ron Morel finally chased him out-of-bounds on the Fort Hays 24 but the drive died on the 20.

The day's most costly penalty followed Crum's greatest punt of the season as Omaha

Owen Field, Norman, Okla.—Backed to the shadow of its own goal, Missouri flexed its muscles and marched 83 yards in the fourth quarter to knock Oklahoma out of the Big Eight race with a 14-to-14 tie Saturday.

The sullen Tigers thereby gave Nebraska a big lift in its quest for a second straight Big Eight title although their own championship ambitions went down the drain.

Missouri had come from behind after the opportunists from Soonerland had built a 14-to-7 lead and threatened to pad the margin.

But Missouri stopped an Oklahoma drive at the 17 and consumed almost eight minutes of playing time to get the equalizer with 3:45 to play.

Much to the amazement of every one, Coach Dan Devine

Devaney: No Tricks for O.U.—

'Huskers Must Remove the Errors'

By Gregg McBride
World-Herald Sports Staff Member

Memorial Stadium, Lincoln—While whipping Oklahoma State, 27 to 14, Saturday, the Cornhuskers relied mostly on good old-fashioned power.

Were the Huskers saving tricks for this Saturday's all-importan finale at Oklahoma U?

Coach Bob Devaney answered with a straight-faced "no."

Quarterback Bob Churchich echoed his coach, but hedged with a smile.

Said Devaney:

"I figure we have put in all the offense the team can absorb. That was a week or so ago. We simply must remove the errors (fumbles and intercepted passes) which hurt us today.

"To win we must do better than we did this afternoon."

* * *

'Razzle Dazzle'

Churchich said the touchdown pass play which sent Harry Wilson into the end zone was "the same pattern as the razzle dazzle used against Missouri except in reverse."

The sophomore from Omaha North spotted Kent McCloughan on a pass pattern beamed for Wilson and the Broken Bow senior raced to the touchdown which broke Missouri's back.

Saturday, Churchich was being chased by Oklahoma State tacklers after the fashion of Missouri pressure, eluded the pack and threw to Wilson on the other side of the field.

"The pass was for a Husker end (Tony Jeter)," Churchich said.

Harry Dances

Wilson's story of the touchdown:

"Kent took a pass away from me last week and I figured I had to take one away from some one else to get even.

"I saw the pass was headed for Jeter, but Tony seemed to be in trouble. I said to myself, 'Harry, you had better grab that ball.'

"My knee (injured two weeks ago) was feeling pretty good and so I did a little dancing after Freeman White and Jeter gave me some nice blocks," said Wilson.

"I couldn't dance against Kansas last week because of the knee.

"This time I felt all right. I guess an Oklahoma player must have hit me about five yards out. I gave him a stiff arm and a little hip wiggle to another player and headed for the goal line."

Mother 'Helps'

Harry's mother, Billie Wilson of Steubenville, O., made the trip for the Parents Day game. Said her son:

"I am sure glad she was here. I do better when she is in the stands."

Notre Dame, Ind.—Yes, football fans, Notre Dame is still winning over all, and, for a happy change, that means over Michigan State's Spartans, too.

The new Notre Dame Saturday out-ran, out-passed, and out-tackled a good Michigan State team, 34 to 7.

The Spartans had whipped the Irish annually for eight years and won 11 of their last dozen meetings. But they never were in contention Saturday. Notre Dame scored on its second play from scrimmage and had a 12-to-0 lead after nine minutes.

Nick Eddy, a speedster sophomore, set the pattern. He swept right end, then cut left to sprint 61 yards for a touchdown on the second Irish scrimmage play. Later he romped five yards for his second touchdown of the game.

Eddy had a 78-yard touchdown run called back and still carried the ball 16 times for 113 yards in all.

The Irish passing combine of John Huarte and Jack Snow was just as devastating. Huarte completed 11 of 17 for 193 yards. He connected to Fullback Joe Farrell on a 13-yard touchdown toss and ran 21 yards to score himself.

Huarte completed six passes to Snow for 114 yards and also passed to Snow and Eddy for two-point conversions.

The Irish defense, toughest in the nation against a ground attack, earned equal credit with the offense. Michigan State tried twice to gain one yard at midfield for a first down and failed. The Spartans lost the ball once on the Irish 10 and another time on the 15.

Notre Dame's only lapse on defense came when Steve Juday connected to Gene Washington on a 51-yard pass play for a touchdown. Lou Bobich converted.

Otherwise, the Spartans were constantly in trouble. Halfback Dick Gordon, who had gained more than one hundred yards in each of his last three games, carried 16 times and made 81 yards of his team's rushing total of 124.

Juday completed 12 of 26 throws for 178 yards, but he had three intercepted. The Spartans could pick off only two of Huarte's tosses, one of them a pitch which slid through Snow's hand.

The final Irish interception, by linebacking star Jim Carroll, turned into the final Irish score. It came on a two-yard plunge by Halfback Pete Andreotti.

Notre Dame gained 428 yards over all, 214 of them on the ground. Michigan State, beaten for the fourth time in eight games, had 302 total.

Spartan Coach Duffy Daugherty, asked if he felt the Irish deserve their No. 1 rating, said, "They are as fine a football team as I've seen in a long time.

"If there is any better team in the world, I'd sure hate to play them."

Daugherty presented the game trophy, a megaphone with scores of previous Irish-Spartan frays listed on it, to Notre Dame boss Ara Parseghian.

"What's this?" Parseghian asked. When told it was the game trophy, he said:

"No wonder I didn't know it existed. Nobody around here has seen it for years."
